

Spreckles New Theater

The new Spreckels theater, which was opened last Friday night, is said by those who have seen it, to be the finest play-house on the Pacific coast.

We recently overheard a conversation by an expert, in which he stated that the acoustic properties of this new theater was, without doubt, the very finest he had ever seen.

While one would think that the theater is now complete in every detail, we learn that Mr. Spreckels proposes to install floor coverings of the finest imported rugs in the entrance, and in the various boxes, the prices of which will run up into the thousands of dollars. What the Grant hotel is to the traveling public, the Spreckels theater is to the amusement public, and San Diego can now boast of the best hotel and the finest playhouse to be found in any city, regardless of the fact that she has only 60,000 people.
