

FRENCH STYLE USED IN THEATER

Towered Unit Rising on Broadway

Marble Pillars Feature

FRENCH renaissance design is of the theater. being employed in the Tower Theater at Eighth and Broadway. Paintings which will appear in the halls of the playhouse are replicas of those in the palace at Versailles, according to H. L. Gumbiner, official Marble pillars imported from Italy will be used in the entrance, while the stairway will be made of French marble. The main floor will seat 600 people and a balcony will accommodate 400. The building was designed by Charles Lee.