

The stage show this week is graced by a master of ceremonies, who seems like a clever chap. He is a typical Easterner and wanders in and out smoking a cigar. He knows all the answers and would do well on anybody's intimate stage like the Uptown's. His name is Bob Hope.